

Massachusetts Municipal Business Recycling Access

An Inventory of Programs

Summer 2004

Overview:

The MA DEP hired the Northeast Recycling Council, Inc. (NERC) in FY2004 to conduct the Municipal Business Recycling Inventory. The result of this project is a formal inventory of the municipal business recycling programs throughout the state that serve small and medium sized businesses.

Summary of Data Collected:

- 184 municipalities in Massachusetts (52%) report having some type of business recycling program. 155 of these communities report that the program is accepting new participants.
- These 184 communities represent a total population of 3,495,256. This is approximately 55% of the 6.3 million people that reside in Massachusetts.
 - 58% are from drop-off only communities and 20% from curbside only communities.
 - 49% of the programs are in communities with population of 10,000 and under.
 - 77% of the programs are in communities with populations of 25,000 and under.
 - Three of the five communities with populations over 100,000 are included (Cambridge, Springfield, Worcester).
- 142 municipalities in Massachusetts (40%) offer trash service to businesses either through a curbside collection or drop off program.

Reason MA DEP Contracted For Inventory:

MA DEP intends to use this inventory to: gain a better understanding of how businesses are served by municipal recycling and solid waste programs, identify new programs, increase awareness of business recycling opportunities, and target resources (technical assistance and funding) to municipal business recycling programs more effectively. Information gathered will be sent to the Earth 911's Business Recycling Company Locator and WasteCap of Massachusetts Recycling Services Directory.

Methodology:

DEP developed a database for NERC to use for this project, titled "Municipal Business Recycling Programs Database" and pre-populated it with existing municipal business recycling program information. The existing information included contact information and some self reported data from programs funded by DEP including recycling cooperatives, organics diversion programs, and municipal business recycling programs. Based on information in the database, NERC compiled municipal specific information and presented it to each of DEP's Municipal Assistance Coordinators (MAC)². The MAC's reviewed the information for their districts, made corrections based on what they knew was happening in their communities, and identified which municipalities should be included in the survey and interview by NERC.

¹ Please note that surveyors did not ask municipalities to distinguish between a mandatory residential recycling ordinance and a mandatory business-recycling ordinance. Listed is only information that was provided.

² Due to MAC vacancy in southeast region at time of survey, Edith DeMello in the DEP Southeast Regional Office assisted with this project.

In Summary:

- 240 towns were identified for surveying as potentially having a business-recycling program by MAC coordinators (Attachment A). The remaining 111 were determined not to have business-recycling programs by MAC's.
- NERC sent a questionnaire (Attachment B), based on the database, to each of the municipal contacts via e-mail, fax, and mail. This questionnaire was pre-populated with existing information about their communities. 182 municipalities completed the surveys.
- NERC made follow-up phone calls to 183 communities for additional information. Some municipalities did not respond.
- NERC made updates to a total of 204 municipalities' information.

Terminology Used in Survey:

Business-Recycling Program: Refers to program that serves any entity other than a resident. This includes commercial and non-profit entities, religious institutions, and public schools.

Hauler Agreement: refers to a recycling cooperative type of program, where a hauler or list of haulers has agreed to pick up recycling for a fee to a certain area or group of customers. Customer pays hauler directly. The municipality may have provided assistance in setting up the program by working with the businesses, issuing a request for proposals, or referring businesses to program.

Curbside Recycling: refers to a municipally provided or contracted recycling service that picks up recyclables from the curb.

Drop-Off Recycling: refers to a municipally provided or contracted recycling service at a drop-off facility.
